Oren Harris Is New Chairman of House Group

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oren Harris (D-Ark.), sponsor of the natural gas bill which was vetoed last year, takes over today as chairman of the House Commerce Committee, which handled the measure.

A youngish-looking man of 33 who believes in a lot of exercise and who teaches a men's Bible class, Harris will direct the activities of an important committee which deals with subjects as technically complex and as numerous as they come.

Harris moves up to the chairmanship in place of the late Rep. Priest (D-Tenn) with a legal career and 16 years of House service behind him.

"The committee handles legislation dealing with railroads, motor vehicles, waterways, all forms of civil aviation, radio, television, telephones, telegraphs, interstate transportation of electricity, oil and gas, regulation of stock exchanges and investment securities, public health, food and drugs, non-property and claims railroad retirement, Bureau of Standards, Weather Bureau, Fair Trade Commission and investigations into newsprint shortages.

"That," said Harris, "covers a lot of ground."

As committee chairman Harris will direct the group's policy — what legislation will be handled and in what order. He will be a member of all the group's subcommittees and will sit in on such hearings as he seems necessary.

He also has supervision over a committee staff of about 15.

Harris sponsored in the 84th Congress a bill to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation.

This was the bill which Congress passed but which President Eisenhower vetoed after Sen. Case (R-SD) charged that he had been offered a $25,000 campaign contribution as a "bribe" for supporting the bill. In vetoing the bill, Eisenhower said he still believed in the principles of the measure.

Asked whether he will introduce the bill again this year, Harris said he plans to wait and see what the President requests in his messages to Congress.

However, he strongly believes in the principles of the bill himself and feels it involves a concept of regulation about which something must be worked out.

Harris sponsored a similar bill in 1940 — the one which President Truman vetoed. After the House passed the bill, Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) "somehow took it over and it became the Kerr bill," Harris said.

A man of medium height and build, Harris appears younger than his 33 years. He has kept his figure trim by adhering closely to a schedule of exercise.

He goes almost every day to the House gymnasium for exercise and to play paddle ball. This congressional version of handball is played with a paddle against one wall.

He is pretty good at the game, his colleagues say, but he modestly lays no claim to the House championship. The most he will say is, "Well, the boys do like to beat me."

Until a few years ago he was regular catcher for the House Democratic baseball team in its annual game against the Republicans. But he gave it up when he started wearing glasses for reading purposes.

"When your eyesight slows down," he said, "You have no business playing baseball. You have to be able to see that ball."

Harris is a Baptist and when in Washington teaches a men's Bible class at Calvary Baptist Church.

Waldron Gets New Factory

WALDRON (AP) — A flannel glove factory employing 175 persons will be located here, Jack Plemmons, president of the Waldron Development Corp., announced today.

He said plans for a $250,000 building for the Indianapolis Glove Co. will be submitted next week. About $33,000 of this amount will be raised locally, through sale of stock in the development corporation, Plemmons said.

Representatives of the glove firm, which has headquarters at Indianapolis, Inc., said they hope to occupy a 50,000-square-foot building within six months.

Democratic Party Chairman Hall Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leonard W. Hall announced today he is resigning as chairman of the Republican National Committee effective Feb. 1 and the White House indicated broadly that he will be given a high position in the federal government.

Hall issued his expected announcement after visiting President Eisenhower at the White House.

The President followed through with a statement of his own saying that after Hall takes a vacation "I sincerely hope that his wisdom and his long years of experience as a legislator, judge and chairman, will continue to be available not only to the party but to the nation in the years ahead."

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Hall is going to Florida and:

"I would think Mr. Hall's great talents would find suitable use after Mr. Hall has completed his vacation."

On the basis of past performance, the Eisenhower and Hagerty statements clearly could be taken as pointing to a federal job for the resigning head of the Republican committee.

Just what position the administration has in mind for Hall was uncertain.

A reporter noted that Eisenhower's statement referred to Hall's being available in the future to the party and the nation but said nothing about New York State.

Hagerty merely laughed at that. Hall is a resident of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and there has been widespread speculation that he may try for the governorship next year.

Eisenhower had praise for Hall's service as chairman and an expression of regret that he is leaving.

WASHINGTON (AP) Leonard W. Hall announced today he is resigning as chairman of the Republican National Committee effective Feb. 1.

Hall, chairman since April 10, 1938, made the announcement after informing President Eisenhower of his intentions at a White House conference.

He telegraphed the 146 members of the committee and also informed Vice President Nixon of his action.

Hall had left little doubt of his plans after his 30-minute meeting with the President but he refused at that time to come right out and say what he would do.

Hall said he would turn in his resignation at a meeting of the committee here Jan. 22. At a meeting of the committee Jan. 19, he said he will appoint the customary subcommittee to confer with the President and recommend a new chairman at the Jan. 22 meeting.

It is understood Hall will take about a six weeks vacation. He probably will be proposed for some government post later. He also is reported to be considering running for the Republican nomination for governor of New York next year.

State Cash Farm Income Shows Best Increase

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Arkansas showed the greatest cash farm income increase of the seven states in the 8th Federal Reserve District in 1938, the district's review showed today.

Arkansas farm income in October 1938 was $134,000—fourth highest in the district—but the figure represented an increase of 35 per cent over October 1937.

In the January-October period of 1938 Arkansas cash farm income increased 37 per cent over the corresponding period of the previous year, the report showed.

Department store trade in the Little Rock area increased 7 per cent over 1937 and in the Fort Smith area increased 4 per cent. The greatest increase—an average of 11 per cent—was noted in a category named "all other cities," which included Fayetteville and Pine Bluff in Arkansas.

States in the 8th Federal Reserve District are Arkansas and parts of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Mississippi.

The report said business activity in the district "averaged slightly above that of the preceding year."

"Industrial production advanced a little and construction activity stayed at a high level," he reported said. "Employment, too, was generally stable, but in the latter part of the year was below year-earlier levels in three of the larger metropolitan areas."

"Farm production and income advanced more sharply than in the nation and credit and land prices continued to rise," the report said. It also noted:

1. Arkansas production of crude oil increased 2 per cent.

2. Bauxite mining in Arkansas declined slightly as imports continued to rise.

3. In Arkansas, most industries expanded their output. Power consumption manufacturing plants, excluding aluminum processing, served by Arkansas Power & Light Co., rose 17 per cent.

4. Average manufacturing employment in Little Rock was up 5 per cent over 1937.

5. The registration of newly purchased automobiles in Arkansas fell off 9 per cent.

Funds Trickle in to Clear Suez Canal

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld said today he expected to have sufficient funds pledged by the end of January to finance the initial stages of the Suez Canal clearance operations.

He also indicated in a progress report to the 80-nation General Assembly that things were going well otherwise in the task of getting the vital waterway back into operation.

His report, however, was brief and dealt only with the actual problem of clearing the canal. He made no reference to difficulties over Israel's delay in withdrawing her troops from the Sinai Peninsula or possible complications arising from this.

Hammarskjöld made his report as the Arab and African nations worked on a proposal to press Israel to hasten the withdrawal. This was expected to touch off a new round of debate on the Middle East next week.

In his report the secretary general said he still was not ready to give estimates on the total cost of clearing the Suez or to recommend how the money should be raised.

and his "work-as-you-go" school are nationally famous. Other educators listen with respect when he says:

"The boy gangs we have now are just a result of not giving our young people enough to do. They have energy and have to do something—good or bad. In the old days they had chores. They don't have enough chores at home anymore to keep them occupied."

"You have to keep them busy. You can't build enough boys' club houses to give them all the recreation they need. It would cost too much. But there are plenty of public schools already built that stand empty at night."

"Why not keep them open in the evening and provide them with a program to keep the young people busy? It would be a big help."

At 72 Dr. Jones, his brow furrowed in kindness, is anxious to see more common-sense understanding brought under control.

Faubus Explains His Program

LITTLE ROCK (UP) Gov. Orval E. Faubus explained his legislative program yesterday to 70 business and professional men at a closed meeting here. He had held a similar meeting Wednesday with 35 other business men.

Newsmen were not permitted to attend either meeting. The governor had said, however, that he would discuss taxes, welfare, education and the state hospital. The governor has come out for a $22,000,000 increase in sales, severance and income taxes.

Workers Fired on by Hungary Red Militia

BUDAPEST (UP) Police and Hungarian militia opened fire today on thousands of workers shouting anti-Communist slogans in Budapest.

The main clash took place outside the sprawling iron and steel mills on suburban Csapo Island in the Danube river south of the city. Less serious incidents occurred near other major factories.

Police fired with submachine guns and carbines on the demonstrators, but the shots were directed over the heads of the crowds. It was not reported immediately if there were any serious casualties.

The demonstrators said they were clamoring for better wages. They carried placards denouncing government concessions as inadequate.

But observers said the main reason for the new outbreak of violence were:

1. The unrelenting tone of Premier János Kádár's policy statement last Sunday which said flatly the government was returning to rigorous Communist dictatorship.

2. Government attempts to infiltrate factory workers' councils with Kádár party Communists.

3. The mass layoffs in factories all over Hungary which Kádár ordered for the new year.

Bearden Again Favors Sales Tax Increase

BLITHEVILLE (UP) — State Sen. Lee Bearden, a longtime advocate of a higher sales tax, said last night he would introduce a bill in the Arkansas Legislature to increase the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent.

Bearden, a Leachville cotton planter and ginmer, said he believed the Legislature, which will convene next week, will "be more receptive to tax measures than it has been in my memory."

He said Gov. Orval Faubus' legislative program, which is believed to include a sales tax increase, would boost school revenues by 40 per cent, Bearden said.

Addressing a teachers' meeting here, Bearden described Arkansas' severance taxes as "disgraceful," but expressed little hope of raising them.

A three-quarters majority is required to boost severance taxes and the "natural resources bloc is so powerful" it could stop an increase, he said.

He said it is "a crime that our natural resources have been exploited and people are getting no value from it."

Another speaker at the teachers' meeting, state Rep. Kenneth S. Sulzer, said he favors increased appropriations for schools but added:

"Before I vote for any such measure I want assurance that the schools actually will get the money. I won't go on record as favoring any tax unless revenues from it are properly earmarked."

Gov. Faubus, who will head into his second term next week, has called for tax increases that would bring in an additional 22 million dollars a year.

Details of his proposal, however, have been kept secret.

The governor reportedly favors increases in the sales tax, severance tax and state income tax, but he has refused to comment on it. The matters will be covered in his inaugural address Tuesday before a joint session of the Arkansas House and Senate.

Gov. Faubus met this week with groups of business and professional leaders to get their feelings on his program.

Very little damage resulted yesterday when fire from a stove set off a blaze in a flue at a house on Bell and 8th Streets. Firemen reported the blaze was quickly brought under control.

14 Persons Die in Two Separate Plane Crashes

Fourteen persons were killed last night in two separate crashes of giant U. S. Air Force planes.

Eight crew members of an B-52 jet bomber were killed when the plane apparently exploded in flight and crashed in rugged country near the U. S.-Canadian border in New Brunswick.

The plane, with a crew of nine, was reported on a shake-down flight from Limestone, Me., about 15 miles from the scene of the crash.

A spokesman said the plane was evidently "put in a position beyond its stress capabilities."

The pilot, 1st Lt. Joe L. Church, of Charlotte, N. C., parachuted to safety after finding himself thrown clear of the stricken craft.

Air force spokesmen said ground parties had recovered seven bodies and were pressing a search for the eighth man presumed dead.

A four-foot deep snow hampered the search. The names of three of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin. Names of five of the victims were released, however.

The dead were identified as: Capt. Richard A. Jenkins, 35, Port Huron, Mich.; Capt. William C. Davidson, 40, Stockton, Calif.; Capt. John McCone, 31, Hayward, Calif.; Capt. Marquid H. D. Myers, 36, Tracy, Calif.; and T-Sgt. Ray A. Miller, 27, Racine, Wis.

The eighth bomber is one of the newest in operational duty with the Air Force. It was based at Loring Air Force base at Limestone.

The pilot was engaged in instrument maneuvers when the explosion took place.

Six crewmen were killed and three were injured at Bergstrom Air Force base near Austin, Tex., when their KB-29 aerial tanker dropped onto the runway and burned as it came in for a landing.

Air Force spokesmen said the plane was returning from a re-fueling mission but could indicate no cause for the crash.

The dead were identified as: 1st Lt. Ronald Russell, 24, Patterson, N. J.; 2nd Lt. Robert E. Smith, 22, San Antonio, Tex.; T-Sgt. Edward Z. Clements, 29, Beckley, W. Va.; S-Sgt. Thomas Salazar, 24, Uvalde, Tex.; A-1C Michael Bryan McIntosh Houston, Tex.; and 2nd Lt. John Anderson Berg, Brakenfeld, Ore.

Hospitalized with minor injuries were Lt. Joel F. Howerton, 23, San Angelo, Tex.; T-Sgt. Robert C. Winegar, 28, Austin, Tex.; and A-2C Bartholomew Esposito, 20, Plainville, N. Y.

The Air Force said the four-engine tanker was used to re-fuel jets in flight. An official hearing was called for today.

Wants to Sell State Hospital Farmland

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state should sell State Hospital farmland and thereby save $100,000 a year, the hospital's Board of Control said yesterday.

The proposal was made a meeting of the board and a committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council.

The board said that money from the sale of 4,765 acres could be used for building repairs or new construction. The State Hospital has 3,220 acres at Benton and 1,545 acres at its Baum Farm near Little Rock.

The council's committee on Penal and Charity Institutions recommended approval of a $6,125,000 annual budget for the hospital. The full council is scheduled to hear the committee's report Monday.

Chairman Paul Van Dalsen, Perry County representative, said, "We gave them everything they needed. Maintenance allowances for physicians were eliminated and their salaries, Van Dalsen said. Some other minor adjustments were made in the budget."

State Trooper Gerald Harris identified the dead man as E. L. Kroy, 57, of Center Hill, a community near here.

The driver of the trailer truck, W. L. Wilson of Searcy, was not hurt, Harris said.

Harris said the accident occurred on the Red River overflow bridge on U. S. Highway 67 north of here.

Senator Lee Is Opposed to 3% Sales Tax

State Senator Gene Lee of the Seventh Arkansas Senatorial District, Hempstead, Nevada, and Pike counties, told a retail merchants committee meeting at Hope Chamber of Commerce offices this morning that he is unalterably opposed to increasing the state sales tax to 3 per cent and will fight it to the end.

Senator Lee, who met the committee by appointment at 8 a. m., said he recognized the need of the public schools for additional revenue but he felt there are other and fairer ways to raise this money. He said a 3 per cent sales tax would be disastrous to the merchandising economy of southwest Arkansas, and said he is confident that a majority of the citizens of this area are opposed to increasing the sales tax from its present level of 2 per cent.

Freezing rain and steel moved across north Arkansas early today while the remainder of the state stayed chilly under lenden skies.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said freezing rain fell at Fayetteville, where the early-morning temperature was 30 degrees, and steel was reported at Philip, which had 28 degrees.

Little Rock had a trace of rain shortly after midnight, the weather bureau said. The temperature was 32 early today.

Other early morning readings included 27 at Walnut Ridge, 30 at Fort Smith, 32 at Blytheville, 32 at Fort Smith and 20 at Fayetteville. No rain was reported.

The weather bureau said temperatures will rise this afternoon and tonight. Scattered rains were expected through tonight.

Jury to Probe a
Prostitution Report

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A report on alleged prostitution on the Texas side of this border city will be considered by the Bowie County Grand Jury Jan. 21.

Howard M. Slates, regional director of the American Social Hygiene Association, contended that the Texas side of the city had "prostitution in its most flagrant form" because he said it operated with the knowledge of authorities.

Slates Tuesday presented a report, which he said was compiled by undercover agents of his organization, to the Ministerial Alliance.

Dist. Atty. Herbert Line late yesterday said that he had agreed to a request from ministers to head an investigation.

The area reported to harbor prostitution is known locally as "Swamp-poodle."

Police Chief Leon Arnold said that "when we receive a signed complaint which alleges a penal offense, we have always and will continue to use the resources of the department in suppressing it and bringing punishment to all offenders."

Cecil O'Steen, treasurer of the Hempstead County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has received some very significant information as to what has been spent in this county in short. Hempstead County is not paying its way.

Since 1890 this county has collected in various times a total of $4,707.24. Of this figure the county kept $21,795.40 and sent $22,011.84 to National Chapter.

Through its emergency fund the National Chapter has been called on by the County and has sent $24,010. . . according to these figures Hempstead is not paying its way at all and actually has drawn $1,098.10 more than it sent to the National Foundation.

Democrats Set With Own Plan in Middle East

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic move to shape today to offer a substitute Middle East resolution along lines suggested by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, it would involve a congressional declaration of American concern with Middle East security and stability. And it would pledge congressional readiness to take up presidential proposals for economic, political and military measures deemed necessary for the area, but it would not have force of law.

The proposed Democratic substitute would stop far short of granting President Eisenhower's request for advance authority to use American troops to block any open Communist aggression in the Middle East.

Further, it would not authorize special military and economic aid to strengthen Middle East nations against communism. "These two are sought by Eisenhower."

Plans for the substitute were announced by Rep. Zablocki (D-Wis.), a senior member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Zablocki said preliminary discussions show at least half a dozen committee Democrats are ready to join in offering the substitute.

Unlike Eisenhower's proposed joint resolution—which would have the force of law—the Democratic substitute would require only House and Senate passage. It would be merely a statement of intent and would not require Eisenhower's signature.

Appearing before the committee yesterday, Acheson—who served under former President Truman—contended Eisenhower already has the authority he needs to handle a military situation in the area. Other Democrats have expressed similar sentiments, citing the President's constitutional powers as commander in chief of the armed forces.

As for Eisenhower's economic proposals, some Democrats said the President has not yet proved his case for them. They said he can submit a separate bill which his administration has worked out all the details.

VIENNA (UP) — Massive anti-Communist demonstrations erupted recently in Bulgaria, according to reliable reports here today.

Newly arrived travelers from the Bulgarian capital of Sofia said the most serious occurred Jan. 3 outside the Bulgarian army barracks at Plovdiv, Plovdiv, with a population of 125,000 is the second largest city in Bulgaria.

The demonstration was touched off by the arrests of three army officers by Communist secret police agents, the travelers said. Police, supported by tanks and armored cars, broke up the demonstration, they said.

The travelers said 20 demonstrators and policemen were injured in the rioting in the city some 75 miles southeast of Sofia.

Reports of a major demonstration at Dimitrograd, an industrial city some 20 miles south of Sofia, were published in regional Bulgarian newspapers.

The newspapers said the demonstrators shouted anti-Communist slogans they had picked up from "Western" broadcasts.

The newspaper Dimitrogradska Pravda said the demonstrators "gathered in the street shouting nonsense they picked up from Western radio stations."

Army's Oldest Soldier Dies

HOT SPRINGS (AP) — A 71-year-old soldier—believed to be the oldest on active duty in the U. S. Army—died yesterday at Army Navy Hospital.

Sgt. Willoughby B. Blakeship had been a heart patient several months.

Blakeship first enlisted 59 years ago but his service was not continuous and he needed one more year to retire.

Blakeship's wife and nine children were reunited last Christmas for the first time since 1945.

Economic Picture Only Emphasized

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — All President Eisenhower did in his State of the Union message, when he suggested that Congress authorize a special commission to study this country's financial structure, was to second the motion.

Similar proposals have been made inside the outside government over the years, most recently on Dec. 30 by a 27-man group of business and financial leaders who formed an advisory committee to the State Banking Commission.

Practically everybody is in favor of such a study. Not everybody is agreed on how it should be done or who should do it. The purpose of course would be to try to make America's monetary and financial operations work better.

They are a hodge-podge group: national banks, state banks, private lending agencies and government credit agencies, with assorted investment policies. There are 14,200 banks and more than 100 government agencies dealing in credit.

Some specialists in business think the Federal Reserve Board's control over the economy—for example its tight credit policy to keep down inflation—is wrong, that it should be less independent, more subordinate to the President.

Some like the arrangement as it is, and like the board's anti-inflation measures too.

The President could use the staffs of the government's various agencies to make a study of the country's financial picture, providing recommendations which he could hand to Congress.

Or a congressional committee might, with the help of its staff, undertake the kind of examination which Eisenhower suggests should be handled by a specially created commission.

The membership of the commission is bound to affect its recommendations.

Eisenhower himself was completely vague on what he wanted a commission to examine except for this: it should "conduct a broad national inquiry into the nature, performance, and adequacy of our whole financial system."

Here are some questions and problems such a commission would probably study:

The extent to which the government should coordinate its credit agencies under some central authority. They're scattered all over the lot now.

Whether the dual system of state and federal banks should continue as it is.

The government's credit policies from top to bottom and whether tight or easy credit is best for the development of the country.

Bar Group Files Copy of Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Bar Rules Committee has filed a copy of its hearing on charges against Circuit Judge Ernest Manner with the state Supreme Court.

Kenneth Coffelt, an attorney here, had asked that Judge Manner be disbarred on the ground he took "protection" money from Charles Womack, a self-styled Benton gambler.

A Saline County Grand Jury recently absolved Judge Manner of the charges and indicted Womack on a gambling charge. Manner's suit on a gambling charge against Coffelt and charges against Coffelt and disbarment of himself from hearing the case.

standing applied to the problem of curbing juvenile delinquency.

In nearly a half century, helped by more than 50,000 individual contributors both white and Negro, he has built up a million-dollar endowment for his own school, which now has 500 students, a faculty of 46, and a $250,000 plant consisting of eight buildings on 1,700 acres of farm and woodland.

For his efforts Gov. Hugh White, at a testimonial meeting in 1953, proclaimed him "Mississippi's first citizen."

To raise his annual budget of $50,000 Dr. Jones now travels some 50,000 miles across the country, makes as many as 12 speeches a week to churches, civic clubs, educational groups. Somehow—he himself puts his faith in prayer—he always manages to raise the money he needs and without any foundation grants.

"If you work as if everything depended on you," he said, "and pray as if everything depended on God—well, it's a hard combination to beat."

"All our students—they new come from 12 states—could be called underprivileged. If they have enough money to pay tuition, we send them home."

About half are from broken homes and a fourth are orphans.

"They work 3 1/2 hours a day, and spend five hours a day studying. We teach classes from the seventh grade through junior college."

"Each student is taught not one trade but at least two—and sometimes three—so that if he can't find work at one trade he has another to fall back on."

"We've had a lot of what are called 'bad boys.' But they all fall in line. It's the spirit of the place. Once they are given something worthwhile to do, we have no trouble with them."

"We keep pretty close track of our alumni. We have no trouble getting them jobs, because people know our graduates don't mind rolling up their sleeves. Not one of our graduates, so far as we know, has ever gone to jail."

Although most of his alumni remained skilled craftsmen, others have gone on to become doctors, educators, lawyers, pharmacists and businessmen.

"I never found a 'bad boy' who couldn't be made into a good man," said Dr. Jones earnestly, but you have to teach him something, he knows himself is really worthwhile. My own motto has been the saying of Socrates: 'Not only is he idle who does nothing, but he is also idle who might be better employed.'

Americans Get Off Light in Italy

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — W. Naples penal court today gave a suspended, 10-month jail sentence to an American sailor and pardoned his younger companion. Both were charged with attempted robbery of Neapolitan taxi driver, Giuseppe Ricci.

They were Charles Honeycutt, 19, of Iuka, Izard County, Ark., and Frank McKee, 17, of Wayne Pa. Both were crewmen of the U. S. Navy oiler, Pawcatuck, which has left Naples since they were arrested last month.

After hearing testimony from the taxi driver and the accused, the court sentenced Honeycutt to the suspended jail term and a fine of 16,000 lire (about $25). McKee was pardoned.

Ricci testified that the sailors, after boarding his cab, had grabbed him by the throat. Both sailors testified they had been drinking but were not drunk.

They said they sought to halt the taxi driver when they discovered they had no money with which to pay for their ride and had no intention of robbing him.

Snow Falling in Parts of State

By The Associated Press

Snow fell on northeast Arkansas today and other north Arkansas points reported some sleet and freezing rain. The remainder of the state was cold with leaden skies.

State Police reported northeast Arkansas highways icing over but still open early today.

About two inches of snow was reported at Paragould in northeast Arkansas and at Salem, near Batesville in north central Arkansas.

Blytheville and Walnut Ridge also reported that snow was falling and sticking to automobiles and the ground.

Light snow that melted when it hit the ground was reported at Jonesboro and Newport.

Searcy reported freezing rain.

Comfort Is Tougher on the Body

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The more comfortable life becomes, the tougher it is on the body in some respects, and Dr. Eleanor Melnyk cites the newer automobiles as an example.

Says she: "You may have to take that board from under your mattress and put it on the foam rubber cushion of your car."

The reason? With foam rubber cushions, one side of the body can compress more than the other, resulting in an unbalanced position, says Dr. Melnyk, professor of physical education at the University of Southern California.

She also pointed out that newer cars have only one pedal. This she says, slants the pelvis in relation to the back because both legs are not stretched forward.

"With the joints out of balance one quick twist—when you swerve to avoid a pedestrian—can stretch the tendons and ligaments too far," she said. "The nerves are pinched, the blood vessels are squeezed, so when you get out of the car your back aches."

The board is her suggestion as a possible solution, along

RESOLUTION
WHEREAS, Blevins School District No. 2 of Hempstead County, Arkansas, proposes to issue $70,000 in school bonds for the purpose of erecting and equipping new school buildings, and said issue was approved by the electors at the 1955 election; now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of said District:

1. The Board adopts as the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957, that budget attached hereto and made a part hereof, proposing that the electors vote a total school tax of 37 mills, of which 9 mills shall be continuing building fund tax for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of the proposed bond issue of $70,000, which will run for approximately 20 years; and that the President and Secretary publish said budget one time, not later than January 14, 1957, in the Hope Star, a newspaper published in Hempstead County.

2. The President and Secretary of the Board of Directors are hereby authorized and directed to request the County Board of Election Commissioners to prepare the ballot and submit the question of a total school tax of 37 mills, including the building fund tax above described; to provide for the election of 1 member of the County Board of Education, Zone 1, 5 yrs. and the election of 1 member of the Board of Directors for a term of 5 years and to conduct and hold the annual election as required by Act 403 of the year 1951.

3. The President and Secretary are hereby authorized and directed to publish notice of the election; setting out the polling places, the officers to be elected, and the proposed school tax, including the continuing building fund tax, with the provision that the surplus revenue from the building fund millage may be used for other school purposes.

The President and Secretary are hereby authorized to publish a legal notice of the sale of the proposed bond issue, in such form as will comply with the law and they deem advisable.

CERTIFICATE
I, the undersigned, Secretary of the Board of Directors of the above District, certify the foregoing to be a true copy of a resolution duly adopted on the 9th day of January, 1957.

CERTIFIED under my hand and the seal of said District, this 10 day of January, 1957.

DOROTHY DIX

Ma Thinks She's Too Good
For New Daughter's Folks

Dear Dorothy Dix: My son recently married a girl whose family is far below ours in social standing. I like her very much, but prefer to avoid the rest of her family. Since I want this fact made clear, I have ignored these people on the few occasions when our paths crossed. For this "snobbery" as it has been termed by my sisters, I have been severely criticized. Don't you think I was wise to forestall further meetings, so they will not embarrass me?

MRS. DEG.

Dear DeG.: I have news for you! The "400" has been disbanded. People are now judged on personal attributes, rather than social standing. I should think a family that produced a girl good enough for your son to marry would be worth courtesy from you.

Why don't you throw this social standing rubbish away and get to know these people? Remember, one day they'll be grandparents to your grandchildren. Perhaps in time, they'll even forgive your snobbery, bad manners and lack of perception.

Your sisters have the right idea. Use them as examples instead of a very untoward picture of a grande dame!

Dear Dorothy Dix: My parents have investigated my boy friend and found that he has told me many lies. They forbid me to see him. I'm sure if I had a chance, I could mend some of his bad ways. He has a very bad temper and sometimes strike me, but I know he loves me. Don't you think my folks should let me see him? I'm 16.

DOLLY

Dear Dolly: I doubt that you'll have any success coping with this boy's viciousness. You admit that he has struck you repeatedly, yet you claim he loves you. I can't reconcile the two statements. Obey your parents or you'll be bitterly sorry.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have written several short stories and friends say I should have them published. Could they be sent to the editor of a good magazine? If not accepted, I'd like them returned. Do they do this?

Dear Ellie: Your stories certainly should be sent to magazines who know what treasure may lie in untold typewritten pages. If you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope, with sufficient postage, your manuscripts will be returned — but let's hope they're published, instead.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Some months ago I married a middle-aged widower of comfortable means. I have property, too, and this caused our first quarrel. I permit a needy relative to live rent-free in my home. My husband claims I should get rent from her or make her get out. What should I do?

MRS. V. B. Dear Mrs. V. B.: Yield to your charitable impulses! don't submit to his greed. Otherwise, he may try to get you out, in time.

Dear Dorothy Dix: The reason my boy friend gave for breaking up was that I live too far from him (it takes him less than half an hour to get here.) Do you think there is any way to get him back?

HEARTBROKEN Dear Heartbroken: Only by moving in next door. Evidently the young man puts convenience first. Now, who would want a guy like that? Not you, I'm sure.

Hope-Nashville to Play at Gym Dedication,

Huge Crowd Is Expected at Formal Opening

Hope Bobcats and Senior girls will play the Nashville senior teams tonight when this city dedicates its new $150,000 gymnasium. Actual play is scheduled to start about 7:15 p. m.

The opening game pairs the senior girls' with Hope the definite underdog. In tournament play Nashville's girls edged the local ladies 46 to 36 and are hoped to repeat tonight.

The Bobcats haven't played the Scorpions this season and the game is rated about even with perhaps a slight edge for the local five, due mainly to competition met so far.

A short dedication program will precede the game with Albert Graves acting as master of ceremonies. Some 2,000 persons are expected to be on hand. During the ceremonies several members of Hope's first basketball team will be introduced.

Hope Booster Club is in charge of concessions and will serve ham sandwiches, hot dogs, all kinds of cold drinks, coffee, popcorn, candy etc. All proceeds will be used by the group to promote athletic programs.

Hassle Over Coach Lively Topic at Meet

By SKIPPER PATRICK
ST. LOUIS — A hassle between the University of Washington and the University of Nebraska over the football coaching services of young Pete Elliott is the most lively topic at the warup session of the NBCC's 51st convention today.

Elliott 32, an assistant to Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma before taking the Nebraska job a year ago, is the middle man in the controversy.

He has a polite "no comment" reply to all questions about it. He doesn't deny, however, that he's been contacted by Washington officials and has talked "coaching" with a representative of the Pacific Coast Conference school.

Porkers Play Baylor at Fayetteville

By The Associated Press
A pair of upset-prone teams, Rice and Texas clash tonight in the only scheduled game in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

The Owls invade Austin seeking their third league victory against one loss. Rice upset Arkansas 78-68 Monday while Texas went on a scoring spree to knock off the favored Texas Christian Horned Frogs 85-76 Tuesday night.

It was the highest Longhorn point production against TCU in many years and gave Texas a 1-1 conference record.

Fourth-ranked Southern Methodist takes on TCU at Fort Worth tomorrow night and Baylor plays Arkansas at Fayetteville.

North Carolina Upset Possible This Weekend

By DON WEISS
Of The Associated Press

If someone can find the formula to stop the North Carolina Tar Heels and there will be three chances in the next five days—the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball race will be a real scramble.

The Tar Heels, ranked second nationally, and the only major team besides top-ranked Kansas still unbeaten, play Clemson tonight, Virginia Saturday and North Carolina State Tuesday.

Frank McGuire's kids are favorites in each but so was Duke last night against Maryland. Luck — Juste Maryland whipped Duke 62-51 at College Park, Md., and dumping the Blue Devils (3-1) out of 4 tie with North Carolina (2-0) for the conference lead.

The Terrapins, with John Nacink scoring 17 points and holding Duke star Bucky Allen to 6, shared the night's upset honors with Bradley, which surprised the Oklahoma Aggies, 12th rated nationally in this week's Associated Press poll, 60-49.

The Bradley victory thoroughly confused the Missouri Valley Conference competition, expected to be a tossup between the Aggies and St. Louis. It's a tossup all right, with Bradley, Wichita and each of the others in the thick of the fight.

Wake Forest defeated Seton Hall, 64-55, Dayton routed St. Francis 84-60, North Carolina State edged Florida State 63-58, Florida whipped Miami of Florida 98-63, and Utah, beaten last week by Utah State, chalked up its first Skyline Conference victory with an 84-70 pasting of Denver, in other features of a slim college program.

Carter and Baker to Battle It Out

NEW YORK —Harold Carter, an ambitious young heavyweight on the way up, is a 9-5 choice to whip bulky Bob Baker, onetime leading challenger, in a 10-round bout tonight that could move the winner close to a title fight with champion Floyd Patterson.

Hurricane Tommy Jackson, the No. 1 contender, is believed to be set for the June Crack at Patterson unless he runs into trouble because of his accident with an automobile. If the unorthodox Hurricane can't make it, Carter or Baker stand as good a chance as any.

Goodwin said that Sam Morgan 50 was jailed at Marion. "John T. Gattis, 12, who was riding with Preston, said that Morgan fired through the window of the truck."

"We met Mr. Morgan walking along the road with his gun and three dogs," said Gattis. "Mr. Preston stopped the truck beside him and called, 'Going after them, are you?' Mr. Morgan said 'yes' and started shooting."

"The youth said he ran from the truck, but Morgan caught him after a short race, slapped his face and warned: 'You'd better get on home and stay there.'"

"Preston and Morgan were described as third cousins.

Middlecoff Favored in Crosby Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Calif. — Defending champion Cary Middlecoff was favored to win the Bing Crosby Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament for the third straight time as a field of 276 led off today.

Despite a haggard cold, he shot a 3-under-par practice round of 69 over the tricky Cypress Point course.

"The course never played easier," he commented. Cypress Point, Monterey Peninsula and Pebble Beach — the three courses over which Crosby's annual charity tournament is played — were in the best condition yet.

Smallwood, Jones Battle Tonight

CLEVELAND — Two middleweights—Ralph (Tiger) Jones and Harry Smallwood—will meet in a 10-round fight at public Music Hall next Friday night as a substitute for the welterweight championship bout between Carmen Basilio and Johnny Saxton.

The Cleveland Boxing Commission yesterday approved postponement of the title bout after Basilio announced that he would not be able to defend his crown until late February because of an injured right hand.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins said he hoped to reschedule the Basilio-Saxton bout for Feb. 22.

Greets Relative, Shot to Death

BLACK OAK — General Preston, a 30-year-old farmer, stopped his truck on a rural road yesterday and shouted a greeting at a distant relative.

Sheriff Cecil Goodwin said that the relatives, for no apparent reason, answered and then fired a fatal shotgun blast.

Goodwin said that Sam Morgan 50 was jailed at Marion. "John T. Gattis, 12, who was riding with Preston, said that Morgan fired through the window of the truck."

"We met Mr. Morgan walking along the road with his gun and three dogs," said Gattis. "Mr. Preston stopped the truck beside him and called, 'Going after them, are you?' Mr. Morgan said 'yes' and started shooting."

"The youth said he ran from the truck, but Morgan caught him after a short race, slapped his face and warned: 'You'd better get on home and stay there.'"

"Preston and Morgan were described as third cousins.

THE BEST CROWD TO FOLLOW IS THE CROWD GOING TO CHURCH

There's No Evil There Except What You Carry With You

Now come on Mister... Don't Try to 'Tip' God. That is only your tithe. Jesus put it very plain to those who fail to give back a tenth. He called them robbers and made it stick. What manner of man is he who will accept the Lord's proffer and (it all belongs to God) then fail to give back a tenth of his profit? Sir, "The tenth is Holy unto the Lord." Lev. 27:32. Tithing is God's invitation to form a partnership with the only corporation that can't go broke. If you are in the oil business; if you are a man of industry; if you are a financier, and not full partners with God... beware of the crash!!! You can't win when you cheat God. His collection plans are many and make no mistake, He'll collect from you. Go to church and 'turn in' your tithe, for "Those who withhold more than is right will come to poverty," Prov. 11:24.

"IF GOD BE FOR YOU, WHO CAN BE AGAINST YOU...."

These Firms Pledge Their Unqualified Support to Him.

Cancer Fear Costs Patients Arms, Legs

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Doctors have been cutting off the arms and legs of too many patients in the mistaken belief that they were dealing with bone cancer.
Two specialists told the medical profession today.

They cited instances of young people whose arms and legs, the experts said, could have been saved by non-surgical treatment.

Bone tumors probably give the doctors the greatest diagnostic trouble, because it frequently is difficult to tell the difference between a malignant and a benign growth.

More careful examinations are needed before surgery, the specialists told a conference sponsored by the Arizona division of the American Cancer Society.

Bone, cases, they said, are a particular problem involving youngsters. Of all diseases, cancer is the leading killer of children, and bone is one of the most common sites of malignancy.

There is a tendency in the profession to take no chances when doubt is present, said Dr.
Vernon Luck, director of the Los Angeles Orthopedic Hospital.

Dr. Luck said he reviewed a large number of bone tumor cases and found that "as many problems had been created by 'overdiagnosis' as by 'under-diagnosis.'"

In these instances, overdiagnosis meant calling a non-malignant growth cancerous. Under-diagnosis meant calling a cancerous growth noncancerous.

Dr. Eugene Pendergrass of the University of Pennsylvania told the meeting that bone cases should be diagnosed and treated as cancer only after a careful study of the patient's history, exhaustive X-ray examinations and microscopic tests of a large specimen of bone taken from the diseased area.

In the Arkansas County Court House erected in 1932, are the state's oldest records. They were inherited by DeWitt when the County Seat was moved from Arkansas Post in 1855.
